Hi Fenix,

My first reaction to the Navy agenda is above. Overall it doesn't seem like they will be able to cover much more than the seismic and geologic / CSM information on this call. I'm not convinced that it's worth having Matt on for two hours to get that background. I do believe the content expressed here speaks more to the comments that Don Tomas and Bob Whittier have made, and I'm not opposed to the call overall. I would just rather only have the folks who are useful on the line.

I didn't look too closely at the timing of each of the sections, but I think that cutting out some of the 'overview' pieces may leave more time for actual discussion.

Interested in your thoughts on the original or my markup, I'd like to respond to Tracy tomorrow.

Thanks
